

2011 Ram's Gate Winery Chardonnay Ulises Valdez Diablo Vineyard

"The 2011 Chardonnay Ulises Valdez Diablo Vineyard exhibits a light gold/medium straw color, aromas of honeyed hazelnuts and buttery popcorn, an attractive earthy richness, a full-bodied mouthfeel and outstanding concentration as well as texture. Drink this impressive 2011 Chardonnay over the next 3-4 years."

-Robert Parker (91 Points, December 2013)

2011 Ram's Gate Winery Pinot Noir Ulises Valdez Diablo Vineyard

"The 2011 Pinot Noir Ulises Valdez Diablo Vineyard possesses a DRC-like perfume that takes one to the grand crus of the Cote de Nuits. The wine is broad, savory, medium to full-bodied, light on its feet, and promising. I would love to see what could be produced from this terroir and winemaker in a great vintage as this 2011 is one heck-of-a wine for such a challenging vintage. Drink it over the next 3-4 years."

-Robert Parker (91 Points, December 2013)

2011 Ram's Gate Winery Pinot Noir Bush Crispo Vineyard

"The 2011 Pinot Noir Bush Crispo Vineyard from the Russian River AVA exhibits a darker ruby color along with beautiful aromas of incense, raspberries and black cherries. Another outstanding offering for the vintage, this full-bodied, rich, authoritative, Burgundian-styled, well-made Pinot should drink well for 4-5 years."

-Robert Parker (91 Points, December 2013)

2011 Ram's Gate Winery Chardonnay Durell Vineyard

"The 2011 Chardonnay Durell Vineyard offers copious aromas of caramelized citrus intermixed with hints of unbuttered popcorn, white peach and pineapple. This fragrant, medium to full-bodied white is an impressive example of 2011 Sonoma Coast Chardonnay. Enjoy it over the next 4-5 years."

-Robert Parker (90 Points, December 2013)

2010 Ram's Gate Winery Syrah Parmelee-Hill Vineyard

"The black/purple-colored 2010 Syrah Parmelee-Hill Vineyard reveals a big, sweet perfume of bacon fat, lard, blackberries and bouquet garni. Medium to full-bodied, it has terrific acidity and a Northern Rhone style reminiscent of Hermitage more than St.-Joseph or Crozes-Hermitage. Notes of licorice, violets and spice as well as the wine's good acidity make for an impressive Syrah to drink over the next decade."

-Robert Parker (90 Points, December 2013)